Project Manager

Dartmouth, Nova Scotia
Apply now: https://cahill.ca/careers/

At Atlantica, a member of The Cahill Group of companies, we execute commercial and industrial construction projects and services in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. We're looking for a Mechanical Project Manager to join our team in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. In this role, you will be at the forefront in driving groundbreaking projects to success. As a key member of our dynamic team, you will cultivate strong, collaborative relationships with clients, suppliers, and subcontractors. Your leadership and expertise in project execution will be instrumental to our continued success.

This might be the right fit for you if:

- You have experience in commercial construction and technical knowledge in the Mechanical discipline
- You have three to Five years of Project Management experience.
- Communication is a strength of yours, including effective writing skills which produce professional quality material.
- You can work well under pressure and with tight deadlines.
- You have excellent problem-solving skills and take a positive, solution-oriented approach.

In addition to the above, we would consider having multi-discipline knowledge and experience and/or a Project Management Professional (PMP®) certification an asset.

What will you do as a Project Manager with Atlantica?

You will work closely with and report directly to the Operations Manager. Within this exciting and collaborative environment, you will:

- Execute, monitor, and oversee all aspects (including safety, quality, commercial and technical) of assigned projects to ensure safe, on-time, and on-budget delivery.
- Support the pursuit of potential projects, including assisting in estimate preparation and bidding.
- Develop an execution plan and schedule for each project.
- Facilitate comprehensive risk identification and risk management before and during project execution.
- Foster open and trusting client relationships to ensure collaborative project delivery aligned with client requirements.
- Ensure all required materials, equipment and craft personnel are on site within established schedule and budget constraints.
- Supervise project teams consisting of craft and staff personnel.
- Produce regular project reports and dashboard summaries and maintain registers for shop drawings, change orders, RFIs, etc.

- Prepare and manage the change process, ensuring timely approvals of all changes to project scope and schedule.
- Be responsible for promoting a culture of health, safety and environmental accountability and actively contribute to Cahill's objective of zero lost-time accidents.
- Identify any unique safety hazards at project start and as site conditions change, collaborate with HSE Advisors to develop and implement action plans.
- Foster a productive and respectful environment for all staff and craft personnel.

Why should you join Atlantica?

- Summer Hours & Flexible Working Arrangements
- Competitive Compensation
- Pension Matching & Cost-Shared Benefits
- Company funded Professional Development
